

PERSONAL INJURY & THIRD PARTY CLAIMS

Our firm readily attends to claims based on personal injuries where we assist Plaintiffs (the claimants) with their claims as well as Defendants, in defending claims by Plaintiffs.

THIRD PARTY COMPENSATION

You may, depending on the circumstances, be entitled to claim the following:

- Damages for pain, suffering, loss of amenities of life, disfigurement and loss of income or earning capacity;
- Past and/or future hospital and medical expenses;
- Past and/or future loss of earnings;

If your claim is successful you will be able to recover a percentage of your legal costs as well.

Compensation in the form of loss of support may be available to family members of a person killed in a road accident. Funeral expenses can also be claimed in certain circumstances.

It is essential that you pursue your claim as quickly as possible. If a claim is not submitted to the Road accident Fund or, in certain circumstances, court proceedings initiated within 2 or 3 years of your accident, your claim may prescribe. Then you will not be able to claim compensation at all. If you have any doubts seek legal advice immediately.

COMPENSATION FOR OCCUPATIONAL INJURIES

Compensation for occupational injuries is based on the degree of disablement. Workers may be entitled to increased compensation if their disablement is caused by the carelessness of their employer or a co-worker.

Claims for compensation must be submitted to the Commissioner, employer or mutual association within 12 months of the date of an accident or death.

CONTACT US TODAY

If any of the above scenarios apply to you, please don't hesitate to contact one of our specialist attorneys today. The attorney at WJVR Attorneys specialising in road accident claims will explain in detail to you what the costs, relating to your claim will amount to.